Personal information

We generally do not store personal information about you from our website. Our partners and distributors are the ones who own the end-customer relationship with private consumers.

However, Safe4 automatically receives and stores information from your browser, such as IP address, cookie information, and pages you visit, to our log files on our server and 3rd party applications like Google Analytics. The information is used for the following purposes: Improve the site's content, collect user statistics, meet your product and service requests, marketing, as well as to improve our services.

To meet your product and services requests, as well as to improve our service, we will store the following information once you provide it: Name, email, phone number, postal code, messages, purpose, source of contact, and consent.

Information about cookies

Our sites use cookies. A cookie is a text file that the website stores on the user's machine. We use cookies to improve the site for the user. There are two types of cookies. One type stores a file for a long period of time on the visitor's computer and is there to facilitate individual users' activities. This type of cookie is used to measure the number of page views and visitors for internal statistics systems and to our provider of an external statistical system. The information collected regarding statistics is anonymous and does not contain name, e-mail or any other information that can be linked to a specific person.

For more details, please refer to Safe4 Cookie Policy v.1.0 that is also available on our web sites.
